THE HIGH COUNTRY OF FLAGSTAFF

While much of Arizona is defined by its desert regions and consistently high average temperatures it's decidedly different in Flagstaff (www.flagstaffarizona.org/) located northern Arizona's high-country mountain region where each of the four seasons remain evident. The average summer temperature hovers in the low 80s while winter snowfall averages more than 100" inches annually. The fall foliage is distinguished by a kaleidoscope of purple, red and orange hues. Spring brings the green blooming and flowering of the ponderosa pine forest. All of this combines to make Flagstaff an outdoor adventurists haven of hiking, biking mountain climbing, skiing, snowboarding and staring into the vast expanse of the cosmos at the Lowell Observatory (lowell.edu), where visitors can take guided tours and gaze through a specially equipped solar telescope to have a different perspective of the sun and stars.

You can still get your kicks driving through town on Route 66 and take pit stops at the town's seven craft breweries located within walking distance of each other.

SURPRISE STADIUM

All eyes will be on Surprise as the 2023 World Series champion Texas Rangers begin defense of the team's title against their spring co-tenant Kansas City Royals on Friday, February 23 at Surprise Stadium. The 2024 Cactus League season marks the second time that a defending World Series champion returned to Surprise Stadium since the Royals did so in 2016.

The opening of Surprise Stadium in 2003 blazed the trail for the Cactus League's growth and expansion into the West Valley, followed by the openings of Camelback Ranch in Glendale (2009) and Goodyear Ballpark in Goodyear (2009) and the renovations and renaming of American Family Fields of Phoenix in Maryvale in 2019.

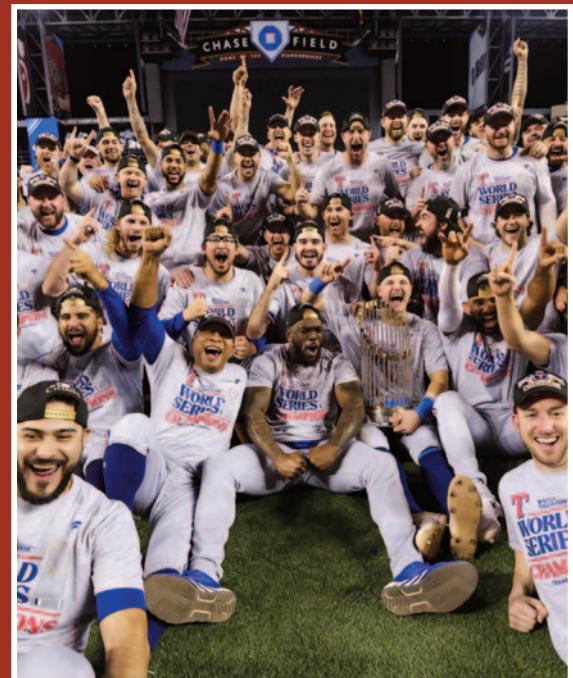

Immediately establishing itself as the newest crown jewel of the Cactus League Surprise Stadium continues to be one among the league's most aesthetically pleasing and comfortable places to take in a game. Surprise Stadium is also home to the Surprise Saguaros of the Arizona Fall League (post season minor league/ instructional league) from early October to mid-November).

Located on the Surprise Recreation Campus approximately 45 minutes from northwest of downtown Phoenix, at 15850 N. Bullard Ave. in Surprise, there are twelve practice fields and pair of practice infields that surround Surprise Stadium's main field with a view of the Bradshaw mountains White Tank Mountains serving as the backdrop.

The 10,500-capacity stadium includes completely shaded upper-level seating, and grass berm outfield seating. The Michelob "Ultra" Legends Deck, is an exclusive seating area on the 1st base line that offers fans the ultimate game day experience with club level tickets, a premium catered meal, drink voucher and private bar with tickets starting at $50.

Because two teams share the facility, there is a game being played just about every day on the Cactus League schedule from February 23 – March 23. A pair of 2023 World Series rematch games between the Arizona Diamondbacks and Texas Rangers are scheduled for Thursday, March 7 and Saturday, March 16 at Surprise Stadium. Other big games on the schedule include: the NL West champion L.A. Dodgers vs. the Texas Rangers on Wednesday, February 28, and the Texas Rangers and Kansas City Royals final game of the Cactus League season on Saturday, March 23.

GOODYEAR BALLPARK

The spring training home of the Cincinnati Reds and Cleveland Guardians, Goodyear Ballpark (1933 S. Ballpark Way, Goodyear, 623.882.3120, www.goodyearbp.com) brought Cactus League baseball to Phoenix burgeoning west-side in 2008 and the surrounding community has continued to boom ever since.

Because two teams share the facility, there is a game being played just about every day on the Cactus League schedule From February 23 – March 24.

The Guardians and Reds are scheduled to open the 2024 Cactus League season with their first exhibition game at Goodyear Ballpark on Saturday February 24. Other standout games on the schedule include: the National League champions Arizona Diamondbacks vs. Guardians on Wednesday, February 28, NL West champion L.A. Dodgers and newly acquired superstar Shohei Ohtani vs. the Reds on February 29, and World Series champion Texas Rangers vs. Reds on Wednesday, March 20.

The state-of-the-art training facility also serves as the year-round player development complex for both the Reds and Guardians. Fans can watch minor league prospects like Cincinnati third baseman Elly De La Cruz develop into big league stars right before their eyes on the dozen surrounding practice fields throughout the spring training season.

Designed by the renowned ballpark architectural firm of HOK Sport of Kansas City, the complex includes an 8,000-seat ballpark stadium with a 1,500 outfield-lawn seating capacity, six luxury suites, terrace seating on the third level behind home plate and a 300-seat right field pavilion.

A signature design element of the ballpark is a piece of modern fiberglass sculpture called “The Ziz” fabricated by internationally famous artist Donald Lipski. “The Ziz serves as a gathering place for fans in front of the ballpark’s main home plate entrance and was named one of the “Best Public Art Projects in the U.S.” by Americans for the Arts.

ALL-STAR ACCOMMODATIONS

About as close as you can get to Camelback Mountain, Mountain Shadows Resort (5445 E. Lincoln Drive, Paradise Valley, 866.819.2818 www.mountainshadows.com), is nestled comfortably along the foothills of the Valley's most iconic landmark.

Originally opened in 1959 the local landmark resort was completely rebuilt and re-opened in 2017 and has since reestablished its reputation among the Valley of the Sun's premier resort accommodations.

In addition to the scenic splendor of its surroundings and its ideal location in the heart of Paradise Valley adjacent to both Scottsdale and Phoenix the Mountain Shadows resort is also a one-stop destination with plenty of on-site activities and attractions.

The Citizen's Club is an all-encompassing modern persona care center focusing on all aspects of physical and mental health offering complimentary fitness classes for resort guests. Daybeds and cabanas are also available for daily rentals providing up-close views of Camelback and easy access to the resort's poolside guest rooms, lobby bar and restaurant.

Listed among the "Best New Restaurants & Best New Chefs" in the Valley by Phoenix Magazine, Hearth '61 led by Executive Chef Charles Wiley and Chef de Cuisine Yulissa Acosta, offers modern American seasonal fare sourced locally.

Golf is also among the resort's main attractions; recognized by Golf.com as one of the "Best Par-3 Courses in America" The Short Course at Mountain Shadows is ideal for novices and more advanced duffers affording great opportunities to work on the short game.

For ambitious early risers the proximity of Camelback Mountain provides an alluring and inspirational backdrop to the Mountain Shadows resort and the hotel provides shuttle service to the mountain's Echo Canyon Trail for ambitious early risers.

At the top of the list for places to stay in Scottsdale, the Hotel Valley Ho (6850 E Main Street, Scottsdale, 480.526.4710, www.valleyho.com) is a perennial preferred accommodation among Cactus League baseball fans.

Centrally located just a few blocks walk to Scottsdale Stadium, there's so much to see and do strolling through Scottsdale's Oldtown, and the Downtown Arts district along the way.

Just a few miles away from the 101 and 202 loop freeways Hotel Valley is easily accessible to the Cactus League's five east-side ballparks for whichever games you might want to see.

A great time can also be had right on sight, the ZuZu restaurant and the hotel's lobby bar which is a culinary destination for visitors and locals.

If you're looking to simply relax in comfort, make a reservation for one of eight shaded cabanas circling the sparkling OH Pool. Each cabana contains plush lounge seating, a television, and a mini fridge. Or you can soak in the spring-time sun on a daybed adjacent to the pool. Every cabana and daybed reservation includes a bucket of beer or seltzer or bottle of house rosé wine. Food and drinks are also available at The Citizens Club. Cabana and Daybed hours or are from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily.

Keeping with the hotel's mid-century modern aesthetic the "Vinyl Rewind Package" includes a record player with a collection of 10 vintage albums to spin in your room (at cost $50 for the entire stay).

The VH Spa offers soothing hot stone massage and antioxidant facials, chromotherapy sauna, beauty and skincare treatments and inclusive spa packages. Treatments of 50 minutes or longer include access to both on-site pools and fitness center.

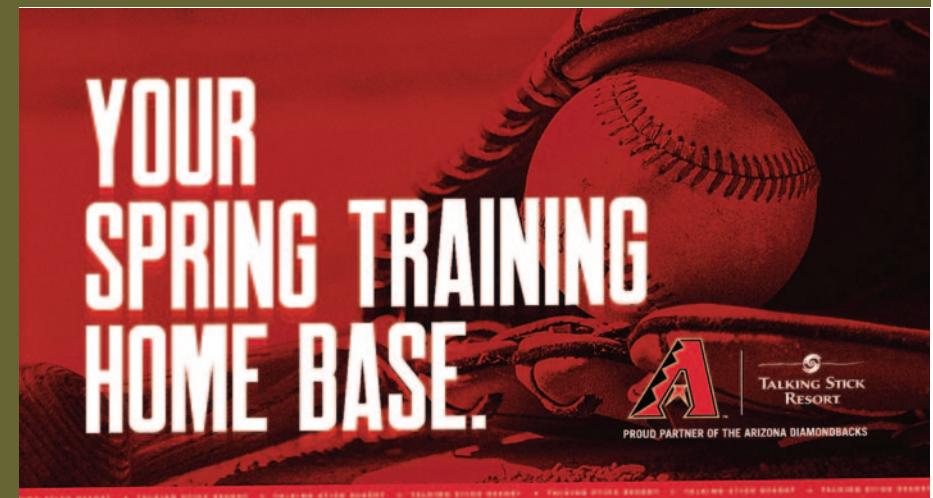

At the base of the south side of Camelback Mountain and adjacent to Scottsdale's Fashion Square Mall the AAA Five Diamond Phoenician, A Luxury Collection Resort, Scottsdale (6000 East Camelback Road, Scottsdale, 480.941.8200, www.thephoenician.com) has its roots firmly planted in the region's early history. A century-old adobe house known as the Jokake Inn provided one of the area's first overnight accommodations available to travelers and still stands just inside of the resort's grounds as a symbol of old Southwest hospitality. The building was featured in the 1987 film "Raising Arizona" portraying the home of furniture magnate Nathan Arizona.

The Canyon Suites at The Phoenician is the only Forbes Five Star and AAA Five Diamond resort-within-a-resort in the Valley of the Sun. Featuring a more intimate ambiance, the hotel offers such exclusive amenities as a private infinity pool, complimentary, daily artisan breakfast and access to all the amenities of The Phoenician.

A variety of on-site dining options includes the locally legendary J&G Steakhouse, offering premium cuts of meat with fine wine pairings and internationally sourced seafood in a dramatic dining room setting or on the patio with one of the best views on The Valley's night sky

Mowry & Cotton on the lower level beneath the main lobby and just behind the three-tiered swimming pools serves breakfast, lunch, and dinner daily, as well as a signature Sunday brunch.

In addition to its storied Thirsty Camel lobby bar boasting an all-encompassing panoramic view of the resort and an infinite expanse of the Valley, the Phoenician Tavern located above the golf clubhouse provides a perfect setting to unwind with some cocktails or local craft beers after a round of golf or an afternoon ballgame at nearby Scottsdale Stadium.

THE MID-STATE PINAL COUNTY REGION

Bordered by Arizona's two most populated counties, Pinal County (Explore | Pinal County, AZ) is just far enough away to escape from the everyday hustle and bustle of the state's biggest urban centers and just close to make for easy day trips to four of Arizona's state parks and three national monuments.

Encompassing a sprawling 5,374 square miles, Pinal County has two distinct geographical regions. The eastern portion is mountainous with breathtaking views at elevations up to 6,000 feet while the western portion is primarily low valleys filled with gorgeous desert vegetation.

The area's rich history and ties to native culture include: the Casa Grande Ruins National Monument and "Casa Grande" (i.e., "Big House") structure of unknown origin apparently abandoned in the mid-15th century approximately 1450. This native dwelling was constructed of desert caliche and has managed to survive seven centuries of weathering.

The Coronado National Forest, Hohokam Pima National Monument, Ironwood Forest National Monument and Sonoran Desert National Monument are all contained within Pinal County native home of the Tohono O'odham Nation, Gila River Indian Community, San Carlos Apache Indian Reservation and the Ak-Chin Indian Community which owns and operates Harrah's Ak-Chin Casino.

Salt River Fields

Still the first and only MLB facility built on Native American Land, Salt River Fields at Talking Stick (7555 N. Pima Rd. Scottsdale, 480.270.5000, www.saltriverfields.com) is the shared spring training home and minor league operations headquarters of the 2023 National League Champion Arizona Diamondbacks and Colorado Rockies since 2011. Because two teams share the facility, there is a game being played just about every day on the Cactus League schedule From February 23 – March 24. The Diamondbacks and Rockies begin the Cactus League season with games against each other on February 23-24. A 2023 World Series rematch between the Diamondbacks and American League and World Series champion Texas Rangers is scheduled for February 27.

The two teams' 12 practice fields are also open to the public from 9:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. beginning February 23.

Outside of spring, Salt River Fields hosts many other events large and small. From food festivals and concerts to corporate functions and birthday parties, Salt River Fields has something for all.

Talking Stick Resort Casino (480-850-7777, www.talkingstickresort.com/), Arizona's leading gaming resort, is a one stop haven for travelers seeking the perfect mix of fun, relaxation, play, dining, and endless entertainment. The AAA four diamond resort is located in the heart of Scottsdale where guests are submerged in the beauty of the Sonoran Desert, yet minutes away from downtown. The preferred hotel of visiting Rockies fans during the Cactus League season and a free shuttle bus is available to and from the resort to the ballpark before, during and after games. Guests can retreat to one of the resort's 496-rooms full of luxurious amenities, soak up the Arizona sun at one of the resort's luxury pools or dine in one of its six uniquely themed restaurants including its most prized dining experience Orange Sky, located on the 15th floor – a fine-dining restaurant, offering one of the most expansive sunset views available anywhere in The Valley. At the center of Talking Stick the 240,000 square-foot Casino Arizona is open 24 hours a day. The Salt River Grand Ballroom boasts national performing acts year-round; spring headliners include: The Marshall Tucker Band February 24, 2024, John Waite, March 8, 2024, Toto March 17, 2024, and Martin Barre March 30, 2024.

FOOD AND DRINKS

With several Valley locations, Twin Peaks "lodge style" restaurants have made for a welcome addition to the Valley's sports bar/man cave landscape. Walking into any one of the Twin Peaks locations feels a bit like being transported into a comfortable cabin in the mountains, akin to a lumberjack walking into their local lodge. Twin Peaks signature 29-degree draft beers are consistently served in perfectly-frosted 22-oz man-size mugs with a rotating selection of fan favorites and in-house brews.

All Twin Peaks locations are lined wall-to-wall with TVs and a variety of sports available at every angle, from title fights to spring training and the NCAA basketball tournament. You're sure to find a Twin Peaks location close to any of the Cactus League ballparks. Locations include; 8787 E Frank Lloyd Wright Boulevard, Scottsdale, 480.483.0921, 6922 N 95th Ave., Glendale, 623.233.5700, 2135 E Camelback Road, Phoenix, 602.954.8946, 2050 E Rio Salado Parkway, Tempe, 480-687.3122, and the newest location coming soon to Deer Valley, 3063 W Agua Fria Fwy, Phoenix, AZ 85027.
